Violacé foncé. Goûteux et généreux, corsé et avec une pointe d'acidité volatile qui pimpe le tout, beaucoup de tonus par ailleurs, des tannins serrés, de qualité. Persistance notable. À un peu plus de 18 $, un très bon achat. Février 2015

Good wine. On the richer, creamier side of the spectrum, but just enough to give it some serious drinkability. Silky, dark fruited with notes of vanilla on the finish. Tasted January 2015.

This is a quite savoury, generous, smooth and engaging red with lifted aromas of basil, evergreen, pomegranate/currant fruit, syrah pepper and some meaty character. It is medium-full bodied with some warmth and sweetness, but it is even and compact, with fine tannin. And the juicy, vibrant fruit is very appealing. Just a bit soft in the end, but delish. The length is very good to excellent. Tasted August 2015
